Until a wolf picks her for a bond mate and a Celtic god rises out of legend to claim her for his own. Aislinn Lenear lost her anthropologist father high in the Bolivian Andes. Her mother, crazy with grief that muted her magic, was marched into a radioactive vortex by dark creatures and killed.

In a world turned upside down, where virtually nothing familiar is left, shes conscripted to fight the dark gods responsible for her fathers death. Battling evil on her own terms, Aislinn walls herself off from anything that might make her feel again in this compelling dystopian urban fantasy. Fionn MacCumhaill, Celtic god of wisdom, protection, and divination has been laying low since the dark gods stormed Earth. He and his fellow Celts decided to wait them out. After all, three years is nothing compared to their long lives. On a clear winter day, Aislinn walks into his life and suddenly all bets are off. Awed by her courage, he stakes his claim to her and to an Earth he's willing to fight for. Aislinn's not so easily convinced. Fionn's one gorgeous man, but she has a world to save. Emotional entanglements will only get in her way. Letting a wolf into her life was hard. Letting love in may well prove impossible.

Biographie de l'auteur Ann Gimpel is a clinical psychologist, with a Jungian bent. Avocations include mountaineering, skiing, wilderness photography and, of course, writing. A lifelong aficionado of the unusual, she began writing speculative fiction a few years ago. Since then her short fiction has appeared in a number of webzines and anthologies. Several paranormal romance novellas are available in e-format. Four novels, Psyches Prophecy, Psyches Search, Psyche's Promise, and Fortune's Scion are small press publications available in e-format and paperback. Look for three more urban fantasy novels coming this fall and winter: To Love a Highland Dragon, Earth's Requiem, and Earth's Blood. A husband, grown children, grandchildren and three wolf hybrids round out her family.
